ŁÓDŹ VOIVODESHIP

Łódź Voivodeship is a voivodeship (province) of Poland. The province is named after its capital and largest city, Łódź. Łódź Voivodeship is bordered by six other voivodeships: Masovian to the north and east, Świętokrzyskie to the south-east, Silesian to the south, Opole to the south-west, Greater Poland to the west, and Kuyavian-Pomeranian for a short stretch to the north.

Its territory belongs to three historical provinces of Poland - Masovia (in the east), Greater Poland (in the west) and Lesser Poland (in the southeast, around Opoczno).
